Images & experiences from traveling in Africa

Photography is my escape from the everyday world which at times can be hurried and stressful. It relaxes me and renews my spirit. I especially enjoy shooting nature, landscapes and wildlife images. My favorite place to photograph is in the Flint Hills where I can relax and enjoy its quiet and subtle beauty.

I still consider photography a hobby as I have a "day job", but have become much more thoughtful and deliberate about my images in the past 4 to 5 years. I attribute that for the most part to the relationships I have built with other photographers and the feedback and encouragement I receive from them.

I have always had a love of travel and photography, which led me to create my bucket list to travel to every continent. I have been to six already, with one more to go -- Asia. Tonight I will share with you my images and experiences while traveling in Africa.

Member Tip (for Nik Software Users):

Free Nik Software Suite for Nik Software Plug-In Owners

If you've purchased one of Nik Software's plug-ins (like Silver Efex Pro) within the last 5 years, you can contact Nik Software and get the entire suite for free. To take advantage of this deal: call or email Nik Software and give them the email you used to register your plug-in or your product key numbers. It's helpful to have the product key number available in case they don't have your email address.

Go to

<https://support.google.com/nikcollection/> to obtain the contact information and a list of products in the Nik Software Suite.

New - DD&B Flickr Group

For any Flickr users, be aware that there is now a Digital Dimensions Flickr Group. We would encourage any members with Flickr accounts to join & post to that group, specifically photos that were taken at or related to DD&B field trips or meetings. The group can be found here.

Flickr is a great place to show your photos and is an excellent resource for gathering feedback & for getting questions answered. It has a huge number of very active groups on almost any photography topic or subject you can think of and is worth checking out.

Announcements

If you have any information about photo trips, classes, contests, other club news, events or anything having to do with photography that you think our members would be interested in, send me an email and we'll put it in the newsletter.

Call for your great Shooting Locations & Local Events to shoot

One of our members Julie Sleszynski is going to put together a list of best locations for shooting Kansas City photos and keep an area events calendar with photo opportunities. She would like input from you on your favorite shooting locations. Please be specific on the location such as "Shawnee Mission Park Shelter 4 and Marina for sunrise photos" rather than just "Shawnee Mission Park."

You can contact Julie at: jsleszynski@hotmail.com or by phone at 913-451-4587.

Let her know if it is okay for her to contact you if she needs more specific information about the locations such as:

- Architecture in KC (Kauffman Center...)
- KC Skyline (KAW Point...)
- Sunset and Sunrise locations
- Your favorite photography spots.

Suggestions or updates to an events calendar are welcome as well.

Organizing Committee

A lot of thought and planning go into each of our meetings and field trips. Getting involved with the committee that does the planning for these events is a wonderful way to enhance your membership. We are always looking for new members of our Organizing Committee.

Several of the positions that are open for new members of the committee are: meeting moderator; planning coordinator; and outside services liaison.
