Jim Mathis

with a program on

“The Joy of Photography”

His presentation will center around the various aspects of photography and why different people enjoy photography for different reasons.

Jim Mathis has been involved in many areas of photography since he got his first camera in the fourth grade. He has managed a camera store, owned a custom photo lab, owned a commercial photography studio, collected vintage cameras and images, started a photography museum, and taught Photoshop and photography classes. He currently specializes in copying and restoring old, damaged or faded photographs.

Tips & trick this month:

Pop Up – please bring a Tip or Trick to share on how to take better holiday lights, winter & snow photos!

DD&B Field Trips!!

We need some volunteers & we need your great ideas! Bring them to the meeting and talk to John or any of the planning committee members.

This is NOT a huge commitment, it's mainly just making a few phone calls, setting a date and showing up! Come and talk to us!

Some ideas (to get you started) that were raised/remembered from the slideshow work from past field trips at the January meeting were:

In no particular order:

St. Louis (weekend trip maybe)

Water Drop

Clydesdales

Dogwood Canyon

Crystal Bridges

Rocheport

Strong City Rodeo

Train to Herman Mo

Steam Show – Warm Springs?

Ottawa Antique Tractors

Westin and Tin Kitchen

Plaza Dragon Boats in June

Nelson at night

Hillsdale

Moon Marble

T-Bones

New Century – Gardner Air show -

Thunderbirds

Trolleys on the Plaza

Big Brutus (Huge machine down by Ft Scott KS)

Member Slide Show

Each meeting we have a slideshow of photos submitted by our members. We hope that most members will submit photos as well as discuss.

In addition, the photos submitted for the slideshow will be available for viewing on the DD&B website:

www.digitaldimensions.smugmug.com

They are displayed by both member name & by month. If for some reason you would NOT like your images (new or past photos) displayed on the website please let us know at the same email you use to submit.

submissions accepted no later than 11:00 pm on the Wednesday night before the meeting

Submission Guidelines:

- You may submit up to 5 images.
- Please be prepared to share some of your technical information such as aperture, shutter speed, lens, etc. and why you feel the image has impact and is enjoyable to you.
- JPEG format. 1600 pixels on the long side at 90%/high jpg quality is recommended for the best viewing later on the website but feel free to submit larger or smaller.
- Please leave EXIF data if possible
- E-mail your images to:
ddkclideshow@gmail.com

For more specific details about sizing/formatting your images, a Lightroom Export template & more, please see the detailed submissions web page

Note: Andrew will no longer be able to accept images at the meetings. You are also encouraged to bring hard copies of your photos to share before and after the meeting at a table in the foyer.

Swap & Shop

We will have a dedicated table at each meeting for you to bring items such as equipment, magazines, books, etc. to sell, swap or share.

Announcements

If you have any information about photo trips, classes, contests, other club news, events or anything having to do with photography that you think our members would be interested in, send me an email and we'll put it in the newsletter.

DD&B Flickr Group

For any Flickr users, be aware that there is now a Digital Dimensions Flickr Group. We would encourage any members with Flickr accounts to join & post to that group, specifically photos that were taken at or related to DD&B field trips or meetings. The group can be found here.

Flickr is a great place to show your photos and is an excellent resource for gathering feedback & for getting questions answered. It has a huge number of very active groups on almost any photography topic or subject you can think of and is worth checking out.

Planning Committee

A lot of thought and planning go into each of our meetings and field trips. Getting involved with the committee that does the planning for these events is a wonderful way to enhance your membership. We are always looking for new members on the Planning Committee.

Join our group. We meet on the first Thursday of each month!

EXPOSURE COMPENSATION (PART 2)

Exposure compensation is used to make the image either lighter or darker. It is a valuable tool for accurately reproducing scenes which turn out too light or too dark. The photographer has the opportunity to compensate for the light meter's inability to automatically reproduce some subject matter the way he or she wants it to appear in the final image.

Here is the mechanical aspect of exposure compensation. The amount of light entering the camera is controlled by the lens opening or by the shutter speed. A larger opening with the same shutter speed will let in more light. A longer shutter speed with the same lens opening will let in more light.

The lens opening is called the f/stop, also known as the aperture. Aperture means "opening." When the light meter chooses an f/stop, it connects a shutter speed to it, automatically. If the photographer changes the f/stop or shutter speed, the other setting normally changes accordingly, thereby maintaining the SAME exposure.

Exposure compensation does NOT result in the SAME exposure. Instead, the image is lighter or darker.

Each camera handles exposure compensation with different menus, dials, icons, and buttons. It is common to see the plus or minus symbol like this +/- or a horizontal graphic with a zero in the middle and a + on the right and a – on the left. Going in the plus direction adds light and brightens the image. Going in the minus direction darkens the exposure.

The pluses and minuses are increments of f/stops. The range is plus or minus 2 f/stops with divisions in one third of a stop. As an example of how this works, it can be said that the photographer can open up (or close down) one third of a stop, two thirds of a stop, one stop, one and one third, one and two thirds, or two stops.

Experienced photographers know to open up between one and two stops to brighten snow images. Or to subtract several increments to reproduce a black dog properly. Experience is the best teacher.

Another teaching aide is to try Automatic exposure bracketing, AEB, if it is available. Three images are taken at intervals below and above the standard auto exposure. The photographer can quickly see the effect of adding and subtracting light to an image.
